Harlynn Geisler has been a professional storyteller since 1980 and has taught and told storytelling at festivals, conferences, schools, colleges, and museums coast to coast. Harlynn lives in the San Diego, CA area.

Jackie Jonas is a professional storyteller, teacher, and actress. She has spent 10 years as an elementary school teacher where she has collected a wealth of performance material. She is currently continuing her artistic journey as a member of Grounded Theatre Company in Philadelphia.

Janice Burnett is a mother, grand-mother, and storyteller. She is a member of the Detroit Association of Black Storytellers and the board secretary of the National Association of Black Storytellers. Her most recent passion is bringing guitar and drumming into her stories.

Malcolm Grissom, this evening's emcee, started life in the back seat of a sports car, in front of the entire neighborhood. So, it's no surprise that he has spent most of his life onstage! An actor, comedian, and storyteller, Malcolm lost the ability to walk and talk at the age of 9, and since overcoming those hurdles Malcolm has coached others in interpersonal communication skills.

Patricia Coffie was born interested and Iowan. She began formally telling her stories in 1976 while working as a teacher, library director, and administrator. Patricia has served in local, state, regional and national storytelling organizations, and is the author of The Index to Storytelling Magazine.

For information about this ongoing project go to the Stories in Living Color page of the Storytelling Association of California's website: <http://www.storysaac.org/stories-in-living-color.html>

All proceeds from this event in excess of costs involved will be donated to Black Lives Matter.
